You clean up nice!

1 product purchased = 1 pound of trash cleaned

1 PRODUCT = 1 POUND

(and so much more)

For us, cleaning up goes beyond selling products that pick up trash.

It's about keeping our operations (and the planet) clean from the very start. From anti-waste materials to plastic-free shipping, we're cleaning up the fashion industry one better business practice at a time.

Globally-scaled, company-led cleanups

The millions of pounds of trash we've cleaned to date are all thanks to our Cleanups Department: the tiny team that plans and organizes all of our community, high yield, and international cleanups across the globe.

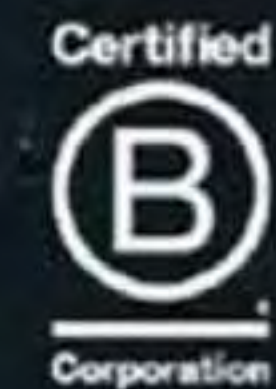

No dirty business

We work on a slow fashion timeline to avoid waste and overproduction, and our manufacturing partners hold some of the highest certifications in social and environmental health.

An anti-waste material mindset

From nontoxic, regenerative fibers that keep harmful pesticides out of the environment to recycled fabrics that put existing trash to good use, we do our best to minimize waste from the get go.

Certified clean freaks

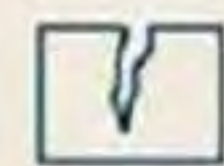

We believe that businesses not only have the ability to be part of environmental solutions, but a moral responsibility to address them. Our third party certifications help us give back and progress forward.
